	Reviewer's comment	Author's Feedback (Please correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Please write a few sentences regarding the importance of this manuscript for the scientific community. A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	This manuscript addresses a highly relevant and pressing issue in pediatric neuropsychiatry. By exploring the biological, psychological, and social factors of tic disorders in children, it provides a comprehensive analysis of their multifactorial etiology. This work is essential for advancing the understanding of tic disorders, offering a foundation for further research and informing both clinical practice and preventive strategies.
Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title)	The title is suitable and accurately reflects the content of the manuscript. No changes are suggested.
Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? Do you suggest the addition (or deletion) of some points in this section? Please write your suggestions here.	The abstract is comprehensive, but the following improvements are suggested: -Simplify some complex sentences for better readability. -Emphasize the implications for future research and clinical practice.
Is the manuscript scientifically correct? Please write here.	The manuscript is scientifically robust and presents well-supported arguments. The use of up-to-date references strengthens its credibility. However, the conclusion could benefit from a more detailed discussion of the practical implications of the findings.
Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestions of additional references, please mention them in the review form. =	The references are sufficient and recent. Adding more studies from the past two years, especially large-scale or systematic reviews, would further enhance the manuscript's relevance. Consider including additional references related to clinical management and preventive measures for tic disorders.
Is the language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	The language is generally suitable for scholarly communication, but there are minor grammatical errors and awkward phrasing. Professional editing is recommended to enhance clarity and fluency.
Optional/General comments	The manuscript could be improved by: -Providing a table summarizing the key findings related to the biological, psychological, and social factors. -Including visual aids, such as graphs or charts, to illustrate trends or data. -Expanding on the discussion of socioeconomic factors and their interplay with other determinants.
